

Professionalize your RE practice in requirements management

Target group

People in RE, business analysis, business engineering, software- and system development, product and project management, release planning, and other departments who want to deepen their knowledge about management of requirements.

Prerequisites

CPRE Foundation certificate or BCS Practitioner certificate in RE

The module provides comprehensive knowledge and skills:

- structuring requirements with information models for traceability
- identification of attributes for good reporting and user views
- definition of evaluation criteria for requirements and know how to prioritize requirements
- structuring and reuse of requirements for product families through targeted variant management
- implementation of version and change management for requirements
- introduction of a targeted RE process and a reporting system
- review of the RE and RM process for efficient project management

Exam

75-minute multiple-choice test with approx. 45 questions

Languages

DE, EN, IT, PL